

The first soybean crop raised in America is thought to have been planted in Georgia by Samuel Bowen in 1765. Each soybean plant generally produces 60 to 80 pods, each holding three pea-sized beans. One acre of soybeans can produce 82,368 crayons!