

Greenhouses help plants grow all year long!

A greenhouse is like a cozy home for plants. It stays warm inside so vegetables, fruits, and flowers can grow even when it's cold outside. Farmers and gardeners use greenhouses to protect plants and give them lots of sunlight, water, and care.