

Broccoli and cauliflower grow best when the weather is cool, like in spring or fall. They take about 2 to 3 months to grow before you can pick them. These veggies are full of vitamins, low in calories, and taste great cooked or raw. Most people eat about 6 pounds of broccoli and 3 pounds of cauliflower every year!