

Georgia is one of the top watermelon-growing states in the country! Cordele, Georgia is known as the Watermelon Capital of the World. Watermelons grow best in warm weather and lots of sunshine. In Georgia, they're harvested from May through August. Watermelons are about 92% water, which makes them a cool and refreshing summertime snack.