

Ellijay, in Gilmer County, is known as the apple capital of Georgia. Apple season in Georgia runs mid-August through mid-October. There are over 20 different types of apples typically grown in the state, and each one is harvested at a different time.