

WINTER FACTS

In the winter time livestock, such as horses, cattle, goats and sheep grow long, coarse hair all over their body so they can stay warm when it's cold outside. Since there isn't much food growing for the livestock to eat farmers feed them hay.

WINTER FACTS

In the winter time livestock, such as horses, cattle, goats and sheep grow long, coarse hair all over their body so they can stay warm when it's cold outside. Since there isn't much food growing for the livestock to eat farmers feed them hay.

WINTER FACTS

In the winter time livestock, such as horses, cattle, goats and sheep grow long, coarse hair all over their body so they can stay warm when it's cold outside. Since there isn't much food growing for the livestock to eat farmers feed them hay.

WINTER FACTS

In the winter time livestock, such as horses, cattle, goats and sheep grow long, coarse hair all over their body so they can stay warm when it's cold outside. Since there isn't much food growing for the livestock to eat farmers feed them hay.